Dear Kirk,

Congratulations to you on your excellent work on the Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum! The museum is so highly regarded that it was not only awarded an American Institute of Architects (AIA) Michigan Design Award in 2013, it was also chosen to be the 2014 venue for the AIA Michigan Design Awards reception and ceremony!

The AIA Michigan Design Awards ceremony held this year on June 7, 2014, is an annual celebration of architectural excellence and draws together 200-300 of the top architects, contractors and other building professionals from across the state. This gathering of the leading names in the design and construction industry makes the AIA Michigan Design Awards a prime opportunity to showcase your company. We know you will want to take advantage of the notoriety of the event and building to promote your company name to the top building professionals from across the state. Sponsorship opportunities are currently available and the enclosed form details the options and many of the benefits your company will receive from participating in this highly-anticipated event!

You will also be excited to know that Lou Anna K. Simon, President of Michigan State University will be awarded the AIA Michigan Honorary Affiliate designation during the ceremony. This title will commemorate and honor her tremendous support of the museum and of the built environment professionals who brought the museum to life.

I look forward to speaking with you and working together to promote your company at the 2014 AIA Michigan Design Awards at the Broad Art Museum! If you are not the correct contact within your company, please forward this opportunity to the appropriate person. Please return the enclosed form by May 5, 2014. I am available at 313.965.4100 or cathy@aiami.com to answer any questions.

Sincerely,

Cathy Mosley, Hon. Aff. AIAMI
